2010 Spring Preview

Fallawing back-ta-back eight win seasans, North Caralina has higher gools in 2010 as it welcames back 39 lettermen and an ACC-high 21 starters. The Tar Heels return 10 starters an offense, nine starters an defense and bath their place-kicker and punter.

Caralina has made consecutive bawl trips far the first time since the late 1990s and will look ta cantinue that streak when they start the seasan vs. LSU in the Chick-fil-A Kickaff in Atlanta. But before the seasan unfalds, the Tar Heels have wark ta da this spring. They must replace twa starters an the defensive line, rewark the offensive line and imprave their special teams play.

"We must became a mare balanced football team," says Butch Davis, wha heads inta his faurth seasan as UNC's head cooch. "We can nat rely salely an aur defense ta win games. We have an experienced team an bath sides af the ball and we have a great appartunity this year ta cantinue ta build the pragram. We are excited abaut playing LSU in the seasan apener and aur schedule is extremely challenging."

The best news this affseason came in January when six Caralina juniars wha were considering entering the NFL Draft decided ta return far their seniar seasan. Thase players included defensive standauts Marvin Austin, Kendric Burney, Bruce Carter, Quan Sturdivant and Deunta Williams. Add in secand-team All-America defensive end Robert Quinn and the Tar Heels hape ta repeat as the ACC's best defense. They finished sixth in the natian last year, allawing just 269 yards per game. Hawever, Caralina must replace defensive tackle Cam Thamas and defensive end E.J. Wilsan, bath af wham are expected ta be selected in the 2010 NFL Draft in April. Juniars Tydreke Pawell (DT) and Quintan Caples (DE) are expected ta step inta thase pasitians, but will have ta prave themselves this spring.

Despite lasing just ane starter an affense, Caralina will look ta recanfigure its affense live. Gane is left tackle Kyle Jally, and rising seniar Alan Pelc is aut far the spring with a shaulder injury. Janathan Cooper, wha started nine games last year at guard, will mave ta center, apening a spat far Travis Band at guard. Band impressed the cooching staff last year in his first career start vs. Pittsburgh in the Meineke Car Care Bawl.

Three-year starter T.J. Yates returns as the starting quarterback this spring, alang with tailbacks Shaun Draughn (nine starts) and Ryan Haustan (faur starts). Highly tauted redshirt freshman Bryn Renner, wha alsa is playing an the UNC baseball team, apens spring as the backup quarterback.

The Tar Heels return 15 af the 16 players wha caught at least ane pass last year, including leading receiver Greg Little (62 catches far 724 yards, 5 TDs). Saphamares Erik Highsmith and Jheranie Bayd shauld anly imprave after earning playing time as true freshmen.

Carolina returns nine starters on defense in 2010.

Spring Game On ESPN, April 10 at 3 p.m.

North Caralina will hald its Blue-White Spring Football Game an Saturday, April 10 at 3 p.m., and far the first time in school histary, the game will be televised natianally by ESPN. Admissian ta the Blue-White Game is free.

Head coach Butch Davis will divide the teams inta twa squads and the Tar Heels will play faur 12-minute quarters. Many ather game-day events and activities are currently being planned and final details will be released an TarHeelBlue.cam when they became available.

"The Blue-White Game is an excellent appartunity ta shawcase aur football pragram and we are thrilled ESPN has chasen ta telecast aur cantest," said Davis. "In additian ta the returning upperclassmen, the game alsa will feature several yaung players wha will make a significant impact this seasan. This will be the first glimpse at the 2010 Tar Heels and I encaurage all Caralina fans ta pack Kenan Stadium an April 10. Yaur participatian, energy and enthusiasm cantinues ta make a significant impact an aur success."

The Blue-White Game is the 15th and final spring practice date far the Tar Heels, wha begin spring warkauts an March 15. ESPN, which reaches mare than 99 millian hausehalds, will televise the events fram Kenan Stadium fram 3-5 p.m.

Caralina's tentative spring practice dates are March 15, 17, 19, 20, 22, 24, 26, 27, 29, 31 and April 1, 5, 7, 8, 10. Per NCAA rules, tams must complete their 15 spring practices within 34 calendar days. Practices are clased ta the public except far the Spring Game. Caralina will repart in the fall an Aug. 5.

Few Injuries As Tar Heels Open Spring

Caralina will be withaut the services af a few players this spring due ta injury, including guard Alan Pelc, wha had affseasan shaulder surgery, and tailback A.J. Blue, wha is still recavering fram a knee injury suffered last year vs. Georgia Sauthern. Three players wha tare their ACL last year - OT Carl Gaskins, S Matt Merletti and DS Trevar Stuart - will be available in a limited capacity.

Seniar tailback Shaun Draughn fractured his shaulder blade last fall vs. Duke and missed the final faur games, including the bawl game, but has made a full recavery and will participate in all spring warkauts.

2010 Schedule

Six hame games and a seasan-apening cantest in Atlanta vs. LSU in the Chick-fil-A Kickaff highlight North Caralina's 2010 faatball schedule. Caralina's hame slate features games against Georgia Tech (Sept. 18), East Caralina (Oct. 2), Clemsan (Oct. 9), William & Mary (Oct. 30), Virginia Tech (Nav. 13) and NC State (Nav. 20). This will be the first game between Caralina and Clemsan in Chapel Hill since 2002.

The Tar Heels' raad schedule feature cantests at Rutgers (Sept. 25), Virginia (Oct. 16), Miami (Oct. 23), Flarida State (Nav. 6) and Duke (Nav. 27).

Caralina plays an ACC-high eight teams that finished 2009 with nine ar mare wins and eight af the Tar Heels' 12 appanents played in a bawl game last seasan. Based an appanents' cambined winning percentage, Caralina (97-60; .618) will face the league's mast difficult schedule in 2010, ahead af Virginia Tech (95-59; .617), Miami (92-61; .601), NC State (91-64; .587), Georgia Tech (87-64; .576), Flarida State (86-66; .566), Virginia (82-73; .529), Maryland (79-72; .523), Wake Forest (77-76; .503), Clemsan (72-79; .477) and Bastan Callege (68-80; .460).

Five Freshmen Jain Faatball Team In January

Head caach Butch Davis welcamed five freshman student-athletes ta the Tar Heel football team in January, including carnerback D.J. Bunn, tight end Sean Fitzpatrick, affensive lineman James Hurst, affensive lineman T.J. Leifheit and defensive tackle Brandan Willis. Bunn ariginally signed with the Tar Heels in 2009 and attended Hargrave Military Academy far ane semester. Fitzpatrick, Hurst, Leifheit and Willis graduated early fram high school.

Hurst and Leifheit are considered twa af the natian's tap high school affensive linemen. Hurst, a native af Plainfield, Ind., is ranked the Na. 10 player in the cauntry and the natian's Na. 2 affensive tackle by Rivals.cam. His brather, Nelsan, is a tight end far the Tar Heels. Leifheit played three seasans at Wilmingtan's Hoggard High School and is ranked the Na. 10 affensive tackle by ESPN recruiting analyst Tam Lemming.

Fitzpatrick played several different pasitians far Pittsfard-Menden High School in Pittsfard, N.Y., and is considered ane af the natian's tap tight end praspects.

Willis played in the U.S. Army High School All-America game in San Antania and is ranked ane af the tap 10 defensive tackle praspects in the natian by every recruiting service. As a seniar at Byrnes High School in Sauth Caralina, Willis had 127 tackles, including 13 sacks, and was named first-team all-state.

Coaching Staff Cantinuity

Far the first time since Carl Tarbush's first twa years as UNC's head cooch (1998-99), Caralina's cooching staff is completely intact in back-ta-back seasans. All nine assistants, plus strength and conditioning coordinatar Jeff Cannars, will return far the 2010 season.

"It's important ta have cantinuity an yaur staff ta build relatianships nat anly with the current players but with the high school cooches and future recruits," said Davis. "I'm pleased ta have aur entire staff intact far next year."

News & Notes

- Caralina is expected ta have several natianal award contenders this year, including Robert Quinn (Lambardi, Hendricks), Marvin Austin (Lambardi), Bruce Carter (Butkus), Quan Sturdivant (Butkus), Kendric Burney (Tharpe), Deunta Williams (Tharpe), Zack Pianalta (Mackey), Greg Little (Bilitnekaff) and Casey Barth (Graza).
- Of North Caralina's five lasses last seasan, three were by a cambined tatal af just six paints – Flarida State (30-27), NC State (28-27) and Pittsburgh (17-16).
- North Caralina leads the ACC with 13 nan-affensive tauchdawns aver the last twa seasans. Carnerback Kendric Burney has three scares and linebackers Quan Sturdivant and Bruce Carter have twa each.
- North Caralina's nine returning defensive starters have 233 career starts. That is the mast af any team in the ACC. Defensive back Deunta Williams and Kendric Burney have started every game in their Caralina careers (38).

Newcomers (enrolled in January): OT James Hurst, OT TJ. Leifheit

Overview: Injuries and attrition last season occasionally forced the Tar Heels to play with three freshmen on the offensive line, including nine-game starter Jonathan Cooper, tackle Brennan Williams and guard Travis Bond. Those three players gained a tremendous amount of experience and all should battle for a starting spot this year along with returnees Mike Ingersoll (12 starts) and Carl Gaskins at tackle and Alan Pelc (13 starts) and Greg Elleby at guard. Redshirt freshman David Collins will compete for playing time along with January enrollees James Hurst and TJ. Leifheit. Pelc will miss spring practice while recovering from offseason shoulder surgery, and Gaskins, who tore his ACL last fall, is not expected to participate.

Overview: Every Carolina receiver or tight end who caught at least one pass returns in 2010, including versatile performer Greg Little (1,112 all-purpose yards), speedy Jheranie Boyd (four TDs) and reliable Erik Highsmith (37 receptions). Little, a senior from Durham, N.C., became just the fifth player in UNC history to post 60 or more receptions in a single season. Boyd also proved to be a valuable weapon as a runner averaging 10.8 yards on 20 attempts. Highsmith's 37 receptions were just two receptions shy of Hakeem Nicks' single-season freshman record of 38. Behind that trio, Carolina returns several promising players including Dwight Jones, Todd Harrelson and Joshua Adams. Adams started the first two games last season before a shoulder injury ended his season. He received a medical redshirt and enters 2010 with four years of eligibility remaining.

Returnees: TE Ed Barham, TE Nelson Hurst, TE Zack Pianalto, HB Ryan Taylor, HB Christian Wilson - (returning starters in italic)
Losses: TE Vince Jacobs, TE Randy White
Newcomer (enrolled in January): HB Sean Fitzpatrick

Overview: North Carolina is 13-5 over the last two seasons when Zack Pianalto plays. He is a favorite target for T.J. Yates, especially on third down, and last season, he set the UNC single-season record for receptions (33) by a tight end despite missing nearly four games with an foot injury. He enters the spring healthy and should contend for all-conference honors in 2010. NFL draft analysts have him among the top five tight ends in the country. Joining Pianalto at tight end is senior Ed Barham, who is noted for his blocking ability, but caught six passes a year ago, including a touchdown vs. Florida State. After sitting out last season as a transfer from Mississippi State, Nelson Hurst will be eligible this year. At the h-back position, senior Ryan Taylor, who missed all of last year with a knee injury, returns for his fifth year. Taylor is a tough player who also will improve Carolina's special teams coverage. Junior Christian Wilson saw action in seven games last season and recorded five catches for 30 yards. January enrollee Sean Fitzpatrick gives the Tar Heels much needed depth.

Losses: FB Bobby Rome, TB Jamal Womble

Overview: Shaun Draughn started nine games last season until a shoulder blade injury sidelined him for the final four games. His injury allowed Ryan Houston to showcase his ability as the full-time starting tailback. Draughn and Houston combined for 1,280 yards on 315 carries, an average of 98.5 yards per game. Houston had his most productive game against Duke, carrying 37 times for 164 yards. Senior Anthony Elzy is a versatile player and is a receiving threat at either fullback or tailback. Devon Ramsay played his way into the starting fullback role last year and continues to improve. Johnny White was a standout on special teams with 16 tackles and led the team in kickoff returns. A.J. Blue tore knee ligaments in last year's game vs. Georgia Southern and will miss spring practice.

At quarterback, T.J. Yates enters the spring as a three-year starter. Yates is second in the UNC record book in career passing yards, attempts and completions. Highly touted redshirt freshman Bryn Renner, who is also on the UNC baseball team, enters the spring No. 2 on the depth chart. He will not miss any football practice time because of baseball. Sophomore signal caller Braden Hanson played in three games last year.

Overview: Carolina's only two losses on the starting defense came along the defensive line with the graduation of tackle Cam Thomas and end E.J. Wilson. Fortunately, the Tar Heels have two standout defensive linemen returning, including ACC Defensive Player of the Year candidate Robert Quinn at end and Marvin Austin at tackle. Quinn earned first-team All-ACC honors after leading the ACC in tackles for losses and finishing second in sacks. Austin was a second-team honoree after posting 42 tackles and four sacks. They will be joined on the line by juniors Tydreke Powell at tackle and Quinton Coples at end. Powell is best remembered for stripping the ball from Virginia Tech's Ryan Williams to set up Carolina's game-winning field goal. Coples was superb as a pass rush specialist with five sacks. Junior Michael McAdoo and sophomore Donte Paige-Moss provide great depth at end, while junior Jordan Nix and redshirt freshman Jared McAdoo compete for playing time at tackle. Former linebacker Linwan Euwell moves to defensive end this spring.

Overview: Carolina welcomes back two of the nation's top rated linebackers in Bruce Carter and Quan Sturdivant for their senior seasons. Add in promising sophomore Kevin Reddick and the Tar Heels have one of the best starting linebacker combinations in the country. Sturdivant played both middle and outside linebacker last year and led the team with 79 tackles. Carter played on the other side of Sturdivant and had 65 tackles. Reddick assumed the starting middle linebacker role at the midpoint of the season and responded with 45 tackles, including 5.5 for losses. Junior Zach Brown may be the fastest Tar Heel on the team and has competed in the offseason with the UNC track team. He started six games last year and had 47 tackles. Several other players are waiting in the wings including juniors Herman Davidson, Ebele Okakpu, and sophomores Dion Guy and Shane Mularkey.

Overview: All four starters return in 2010, including first-team All-ACC performers and Thorpe Award nominees Kendric Burney and Deunta Williams. Burney and Williams combined for 314 of Carolina's school-record 508 interception return yards last year. UNC's defensive backs picked off 17 passes a year ago with each starter registering at least one. Williams ranks third at UNC with 12 career interceptions, while Burney has nine. Senior Charles Brown is a talented cover man who finished second on the team last year with 66 tackles. Senior safety Da'Norris Searcy is a hard-hitting, aggressive defender who also returned kicks last season. He has improved every season and could contend for all-conference honors this year. Safety Matt Merletti is coming back from an ACL injury suffered last preseason and will be limited this spring. The Tar Heels have several promising young players behind the four starters, including redshirt freshmen Curtis Campbell, Josh Hunter and Terry Shankle. Cornerbacks Mywan Jackson and Gene Robinson gained valuable playing experience last year as true freshmen.

BUTCH DAVIS
HEAD COACH • FOURTH SEASON

North Carolina head coach Butch Davis has brought energy and enthusiasm back to the Tar Heel football program with his ability to motivate, teach and recruit at the highest level. A man with a proven record of success and an unyielding commitment to excellence, Davis has a clear vision for building a championship program in Chapel Hill based on integrity, character and honor.

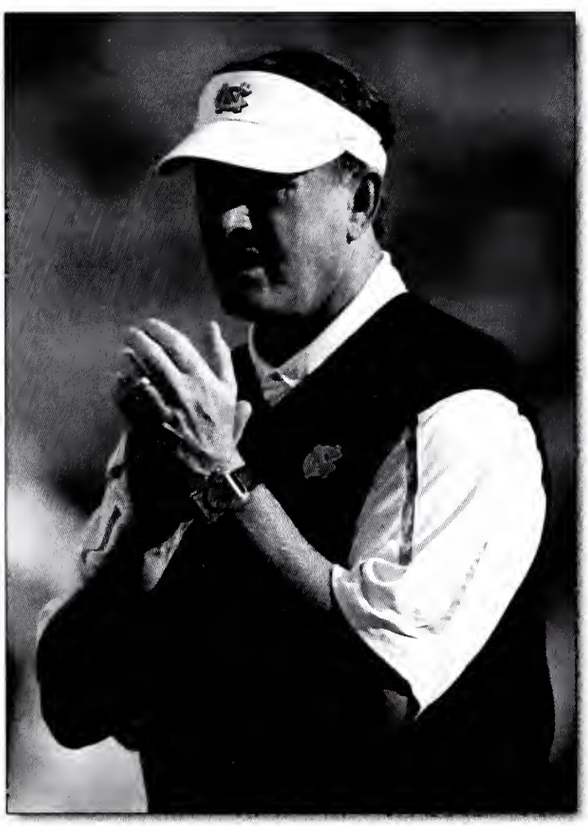
In three seasons at North Carolina, Davis has led the Tar Heels to back-to-back bowl games for the first time in more than a decade and produced 16 wins over the past two years - the most since consecutive double-digit wins in 1996-97. The former head coach at the University of Miami and the NFL's Cleveland Browns, Davis is Carolina's 33rd head coach and the ninth since the ACC was formed in 1953.

Introduced as North Carolina's head coach on Nov. 13, 2006, Davis quickly rejuvenated the fan base and brought excitement to every Saturday at Kenan Stadium. Beginning with his first Carolina recruiting class in 2007, which many analysts ranked among the top 10 in the country, Davis has connected with student-athletes and fans alike with his brand of fast, hard-nosed, disciplined football.

Davis, who guided Miami out of NCAA probation and into the upper echelon of college football in the late 1990s, has likewise turned around the UNC program. Carolina improved from 4-8 in 2007 to 8-5 in 2008, which was the sixth-best turnaround in the country. A second consecutive eight-win season in 2009 gives the Tar Heels 20 wins under Davis, which is one more than they won in the five years (2002-06) prior to his arrival.

Davis also emphasizes the importance of academics. His teams have been recognized by the American Football Coaches Association for outstanding graduation rates in each of his nine seasons as a head coach, including six at Miami and three at UNC.

No stranger to success, Davis has coached in 13 postseason bowl games as an assistant or head coach, including two apiece in the Fiesta, Orange and Sugar Bowls, and he either recruited or coached nearly all the players from Miami's 2001 national championship team. He also won two Super Bowls as an assistant coach with the Dallas Cowboys. An excellent motivator and technician, Davis recruited or coached a number of players at Miami who were selected in the NFL Draft, including an amazing 28 first-round picks in six seasons. Since his arrival in Chapel Hill, Davis has produced two first-round draft picks in defensive tackle Kentwan Balmer and wide receiver Hakeem Nicks.



Prior to his arrival in Chapel Hill, Davis served as an analyst on the NFL Network for two seasons. There he was able to watch and study the latest college football offensive and defensive schemes. Yearning to return to the college coaching ranks, Davis surveyed the college football landscape, and when the Carolina job came open, he was immediately interested.

Davis was head coach for six seasons at Miami (1995-2000) and led the Hurricanes to a 51-20 record, three Big East Conference championships and four postseason bowl wins in as many appearances. He took over a Miami program faced with NCAA sanctions that restricted the number of scholarships in his first three seasons. However, his Hurricane teams finished ranked in the Associated Press Top 25 on four occasions, including No. 2 in the nation in 2000, when the Canes went 11-1 and beat Florida, 37-20, in the Sugar Bowl.

Davis left Coral Gables following the 2000 season to join the Cleveland Browns. In his first season in Cleveland in 2001, Davis led his young team to an impressive 7-9 record, exceeding by two the expansion club's combined victories from 1999 and 2000 (5-27). His second season as head coach resulted in the Browns earning their first playoff appearance and best regular season mark since 1994. Cleveland finished the season with a 7-3 mark over its final 10 games, including victories in four of its final six outings, the best record over the final six games of the season for the franchise since 1988.

Cleveland was Davis' second stint in the NFL. He was a defensive assistant with the Dallas Cowboys from 1989-94 and was defensive coordinator in 1993 and 1994. The Cowboys won consecutive Super Bowls in 1992 and 1993 and played in one other NFC championship game. Davis helped Dallas post one of the most spectacular turnarounds in sports history as the Cowboys went from a lowly 1-15 squad in 1989 to one of the most dominant NFL programs in the 1990s. He was the defensive line coach in the Cowboys' 52-17 win over Buffalo in Super Bowl XXVII and served as defensive coordinator in the Cowboys' 30-13 win over Buffalo in Super Bowl XXVIII. Davis was also defensive coordinator during Barry Switzer's first season as head coach in 1994 and helped Dallas reach the NFC Championship Game, where eventual Super Bowl champion San Francisco denied its bid for a three-peat.

Davis was defensive line coach at Miami from 1984-88 under head coach Jimmy Johnson, whom he also coached under for five years in Dallas and five years at Oklahoma State. The Hurricanes went 52-9 in those five years and won the 1987 national championship after beating Oklahoma in the Orange Bowl to cap a perfect 12-0 record.

Davis entered the collegiate coaching ranks on the offensive side of the ball as an assistant on Johnson's Oklahoma State University teams from 1979-83. At OSU, Davis coached receivers and tight ends while also serving as recruiting coordinator.

Davis played college football at the University of Arkansas for coach Frank Broyles. A knee injury curtailed his college career, and he became a student assistant coach for the Razorbacks. He earned a bachelor's degree in biology and life science in 1974. His coaching career began as a volunteer assistant in 1973 at Fayetteville High School in Arkansas. He had stints in Oklahoma at Pawhuska High School (1974-75) and Sand Springs High School (1976-77) as an assistant coach and at Tulsa Rogers High School (1978) in his first head coaching assignment.

Paul Hilton (Butch) Davis is a native of Tahlequah, Okla. Davis and his wife, Tammy, have a teenage son, Drew.

The Davis's are heavily involved in the Chapel Hill and surrounding communities. Since moving to Chapel Hill in 2006, the Davis's have pledged their time and financial support to many charitable organizations. They include, but are not limited to: Night of Champions, Flashes of Hope, Lineberger Cancer Center, UNC Children's Hospital, SECU Family House, Athletes in Action, Fellowship of Christian Athletes, Habitat for Humanity, Carolina Kids, Multiple Sclerosis, Crosby Scholars and Informed Families.

JOHN BLAKE
ASSOCIATE HEAD COACH
DEFENSIVE LINE
RECRUITING COORDINATOR

John Blake enters his fourth season on the North Carolina staff as the Tar Heels' associate head coach, recruiting coordinator and defensive line coach. Blake, who coached with Butch Davis in Dallas, has developed some of the top defensive linemen in the country at all levels, including high school, college and the NFL.

Over the past three seasons, Blake has tutored a number of highly skilled defensive linemen, including current first-team All-ACC selection Robert Quinn at defensive end and second-team pick Marvin Austin at defensive tackle. With Blake's defensive line dominating the point of attack, Carolina finished sixth in the nation in tackles for losses, No. 6 in total defense and No. 10 against the run.

In addition to his abilities as a defensive line coach, Blake is considered by many observers as the nation's top recruiter. In each of the past three years, at least one recruiting publication has named Blake the nation's best recruiter.

Blake came to Carolina after serving three seasons at the University of Nebraska, where he coached several outstanding defensive linemen, including 2007 NFL first-round draft pick Adam Carriker (13th overall) and probable 2010 NFL first-round selection Ndamukong Suh. The Huskers defensive line was ranked the top defensive line unit in the country by CollegeFootballNews.com in 2006.

Davis and Blake previously worked together as members of Jimmy Johnson's staff with the Dallas Cowboys. Blake joined the Dallas staff as defensive line coach after Davis was promoted to defensive coordinator in 1993. That year, Dallas ranked eighth in the league in total defense and beat Buffalo, 30-13, in Super Bowl XXVIII. After Davis left to become the head coach at Miami in 1995, Blake remained in Dallas and won another Super Bowl title under head coach Barry Switzer.

A native of Rockford, Ill., Blake played for Switzer at Oklahoma from 1979-82, where he earned All-Big Eight honors at nose guard. He later returned to his alma mater to serve as head coach of the Sooners from 1996-98.

At Oklahoma, Blake began as a student assistant working with the defensive line in 1985 and earned a national championship ring that season. The Sooners lost just two games during his first tenure on the staff.

Blake's first full-time assistant position was at Tulsa from 1987-88, where he coached the tight ends and wide receivers. He returned to his alma mater in 1989 as the Sooners' defensive line coach, and then served as Gary Gibbs' linebackers coach from 1990 to 1992.

After Johnson hired Blake in Dallas, five players made the Pro Bowl during his three seasons. Blake's defensive line was considered one of the best in the NFL during his tenure. Among others, Blake tutored Pro Bowlers Charles Haley, Russell Maryland, Leon Lett, Chad Henning, Tony Tolbert and Jim Jeffcoat.

Blake earned his bachelor's degree in public relations and recreation from Oklahoma in 1986. He and his wife, Freda, have one son, Jourdan.

KEN BROWNING
RUNNING BACKS

The longest tenured assistant coach at North Carolina, Ken Browning enters his 17th season with the Tar Heels and fourth as the running backs coach. Browning has coached on the offensive and defensive side of the ball at UNC, including three seasons as tight ends coach (2001-04) and 11 years as defensive tackles coach (1994-2000, 2005-06). Butch Davis is the fourth head coach Browning has worked under at North Carolina. Browning also oversees Carolina's camps and clinics.

Over the past two seasons, Browning has developed the tandem of Shaun Draughn and Ryan Houston into one of the top tailback combinations in the league. Draughn was among the league's top rushers before a shoulder injury vs. Duke sidelined him for the rest of the year. Houston, who finished ninth in the league in touchdowns, took over as the primary ball carrier and led the team in rushing.

In 16 seasons in Chapel Hill, Browning has developed a number of outstanding players, including first-round NFL draft picks Vonnie Holliday (DT), Marcus Jones (DT/DE) and Ryan Sims (DT) and second-round picks Rick Terry (DT) and Russell Davis (DT). He also recruited and coached 2008 first-round NFL draft pick Kentwan Balmer. Sports Illustrated selected North Carolina's defensive tackles in its positional "Dream Team" in its 1998 preseason college football issue. In 2002, Sims, who played under Browning for three years, was selected by the Kansas City Chiefs in the first round.

Browning is in his second stint coaching on the offensive side of the ball at UNC. He coached Carolina's tight ends for four seasons (2001-04), where he developed several standout players.

With Browning on the defensive side of the ball, the Tar Heels led the ACC in total defense from 1995-97 and finished No. 2 in the nation in yards allowed in 1996 and 1997. The Tar Heels were third in the country against the run in 1996 allowing 73.9 yards per game. In 1997, Carolina was fourth in the nation stopping the run as opponents averaged 77.9 yards per contest. UNC held opponents to less than 50 yards rushing in six games and less than 100 yards in nine of 12 games.

Promoted to defensive coordinator in 2000, Browning directed a UNC squad that set a school record with an ACC-best 53 sacks. Carolina finished 19th in the nation against the run, allowing just 103.5 yards per game, and was second in the league and 30th in the nation in total defense.

One of the state's most decorated high school coaches, Browning joined the Tar Heel staff in 1994 and has coached in some of the most memorable Carolina football games. He has been a part of eight bowl games and was on the staff in 1996-97 when UNC had a combined record of 21-3 and finished ranked in the top 10 both seasons.

Browning was the head coach and athletic director at Northern Durham High School for 18 years. He posted a 178-35 record and won the 1993 4-A state title and Shrine Bowl. Over his last three years, Northern built a 43-2 record and he was named the North Carolina Coach of the Year by the Associated Press in 1992 and 1993. He became only the third coach to win both the state title and Shrine Bowl in the same year.

Browning and his wife, Susan, have three sons – Chuck, John and Joe.

JEFF CONNORS
ASSISTANT ATHLETIC DIRECTOR
STRENGTH & CONDITIONING

Jeff Connors enters his 10th season as Carolina's Strength and Conditioning Coordinator and his ninth as an assistant athletic director.

Connors has been honored as a Master Strength & Conditioning Coach by the Collegiate Strength & Conditioning Coaches association (CSCCa). The Master Strength & Conditioning Coach certification is the highest honor that can be achieved as a strength and conditioning coach, representing professionalism, knowledge, experience, expertise and longevity in the field.

Connors has helped develop some of the top players in Carolina's program, including Julius Peppers, Ronald Curry, David Thornton, Kentwan Balmer and Hakeem Nicks. In four years under Connors' direction, Balmer increased his overall strength and agility and became a first-round NFL draft choice.

Connors came to Carolina after spending 10 seasons as East Carolina's Director of Strength & Conditioning. Under Connors, the Pirates were one of the best fourth-quarter teams in the country. In 1996, the ECU defense did not allow a point in the fourth quarter until the seventh game of the season and in 1999, the Pirates outscored their opponents, 102-56, in the final period. In 2000, ECU had a 94-57 advantage in the fourth quarter.

Connors' was the head strength and conditioning coach at Bucknell prior to his experience at East Carolina.

Connors is often asked to present his strength and conditioning program to clinics and conferences across the country. Most recently, he was the featured speaker at the University of Tennessee's strength and conditioning clinic this spring. He also presented UNC's speed and position specific package at the National CCSCa Conference and Midwest Sports Performance Conference in 2009.

Connors also was the featured speaker at the 1995 National Strength and Conditioning Association Conference in Phoenix, the 1996 NSCA Conference in Atlanta and the 2003 NSCA Conference. In 1996, he was the Regional Director of the Year and was nominated for National Strength Coach of the Year in 1991.

Connors was a competitive powerlifter and has won four state titles in powerlifting and has been ranked as high as fourth nationally. He holds Level 1 certification in Olympic Weight Lifting by the U.S. Weight Lifting Federation.

A 1980 graduate of Salem (W. Va.) College, Connors was a four-year starter at cornerback and was team captain as a senior. He led Salem in interceptions as a sophomore and junior.

After college, Connors served as a police officer in South Florida for two years. Prior to becoming a strength coach, Connors coached high school football and wrestling at The Benjamin School in North Palm Beach, Fla., and he coached linebackers at the Tennessee Military Institute in Sweetwater, Tenn.

Connors and his wife, Michele, have a daughter, Kaitlin, and a son, Beau.

TROY DOUGLAS
DEFENSIVE BACKS

Troy Douglas enters his second season as Carolina's defensive backs coach. He came to Chapel Hill after serving three years as the defensive backs coach at South Florida. During his tenure in Tampa, USF earned three bowl bids and won 26 games. Douglas tutors the Tar Heel defensive backs along with defensive coordinator Everett Withers, his former teammate at Appalachian State.

Douglas is in his 23rd season as a college coach, and has spent 21 seasons working in the defensive secondary. Under his direction, Carolina picked off 19 passes and returned them for a school-record 508 yards and four touchdowns in 2009. Two of his players - safety Deunta Williams and cornerback Kendric Burney - earned first-team All-ACC honors a year ago.

At USF, Douglas played a major role in developing one of the nation's top defenses. In 2008, the Bulls finished 10th in the country in overall defense and in 2007, USF led the country in turnovers, interceptions and fumble recoveries. His secondary produced 17 of the 23 interceptions, including three by first team All-America Mike Jenkins, four by third team All-BIG EAST safety Nate Allen and six by second team All-BIG EAST corner Trae Williams. Jenkins was selected by the Dallas Cowboys in the first round of the 2008 NFL Draft and Williams was picked in the fifth round by Jacksonville.

Douglas also has coached at Indiana (2004-05), South Carolina State (2003), Michigan State (2001-2002), SMU (1997-2000), UTEP (1995-1996), East Tennessee State (1992-1994) and West Chester (1989-1991).

During his two years as the secondary coach at Michigan Sate, the Spartans still ranked 14th in the nation in pass defense despite losing four cornerbacks through the 2001 season.

In his one year at South Carolina State, Douglas was instrumental in building a defense that led I-AA in pass efficiency defense.

At SMU, Douglas coached running backs for one season (1997) before moving to the defensive side of the ball. In 1998, SMU was ranked 14th nationally in defense.

In his two seasons at UTEP, Douglas coached the secondary in 1995 and running backs in 1996, after three seasons as the secondary coach at East Tennessee State. At ETSU, the Buccaneers ranked third in the nation in pass efficiency defense, and one of Douglas' players – Donnie Abraham – went on to a very successful career with the New York Jets that included a Pro Bowl appearance.

Douglas began a full-time coaching career as the defensive backs coach at West Chester (Pa.) in 1989, where he coached Lee Woodall, a Pro Bowl player in 1995 and 1997 as a San Francisco 49er.

A native of Jacksonville, Fla., Douglas was a four-year starter at wide receiver for Appalachian State from 1983-86. He led the team in receiving as a junior and senior. When he graduated, he ranked third all-time at ASU with 90 career receptions for 1,401 yards. He earned a bachelor's degree in communications arts (1988) and was a graduate assistant at his alma mater before his first full-time position at West Chester.

Douglas and his wife, Rebecca, have two children – Tanner and Taryn.

ART KAUFMAN
LINEBACKERS

A 26-year coaching veteran, Art Kaufman enters his second season as Carolina's linebackers coach. He came to UNC after one season at Southern Miss, where he coached the defensive line and was the special teams coordinator.

Under his guidance, Carolina linebackers Quan Sturdivant (first team) and Bruce Carter (second team) earned All-ACC honors in 2009. Sturdivant led the team in tackles and was second in tackles for losses.

Kaufman, who has coached in eight bowl games, helped lead Southern Miss to a victory over Troy in the New Orleans Bowl in 2008. A former defensive coordinator at Mississippi, Kaufman also has coached at Middle Tennessee State, East Carolina, Arkansas Tech and Louisiana Tech.

Kaufman spent three seasons at Middle Tennessee as the Blue Raiders linebackers coach and two seasons as defensive line coach at East Carolina. Prior to joining the staff at ECU, Kaufman spent two seasons as the defensive coordinator and linebackers coach at Arkansas Tech.

A 1980 graduate of the University of Arkansas at Monticello, Kaufman had two stints at Mississippi, coaching in Oxford for a total of 10 years. He spent six years as the Rebels' defensive coordinator and linebackers coach.

Kaufman was a two-time All-America linebacker during his playing days at Arkansas-Monticello and followed his four-year career with the Boll Weevils by taking a graduate assistant position at Delta State University.

He earned his first full-time coaching job in 1983 when he became the outside linebackers coach at Northwestern State University (La.). In 1987, he was named defensive coordinator/linebackers coach at Northwestern State.

He left there the following year for Ole Miss to coach the Rebels' outside linebackers and defensive ends. While at Ole Miss, Kaufman helped guide the Rebels to back-to-back bowl appearances (1989 Liberty Bowl and 1991 Gator Bowl) for the first time since the 1970s.

Four years later, Kaufman was named the defensive coordinator/linebacker coach at Louisiana Tech University, where he remained until returning to Ole Miss in 1995. In 1992, his defensive unit ranked in the top five nationally.

He again served as the Rebels' defensive coordinator and linebacker coach for the next six years. During his second stint at Ole Miss, Kaufman helped the Rebels to four straight bowl berths (1997-2000), and his 1999 defense ranked fourth nationally in rushing defense.

A native of Dermott, Ark., Kaufman has three daughters: Tara, Taylor, and Madison.

ALLEN MOGRIDGE
TIGHT ENDS
SPECIAL TEAMS COORDINATOR

A former four-year letterwinner at North Carolina, Allen Mogridge returned to his alma mater in 2009 as the Tar Heels' tight ends coach after working seven seasons at the University at Buffalo.

Under Mogridge's tutelage, junior Zack Pianalto has developed into one of the Tar Heels' top offensive weapons and one of the best tight ends in the conference. An honorable-mention All-ACC pick in 2009, Pianalto set the UNC single-season mark for catches by a tight end with 33.

Mogridge coached the offensive line for two seasons with the Bulls and was the team's running backs coach for three seasons. He also served as recruiting coordinator for head coach Turner Gill. In 2008, Buffalo won the MAC championship with a victory over heavily-favored Ball State and earned the school's second-ever bowl berth.

In his first season as Buffalo's offensive line coach in 2007, Mogridge mentored the Bulls' first ever All-MAC offensive linemen in center Jamey Richard and guard Jeff Niedermier. His offensive line paved the way for an offense that scored a Division I-A-record 291 points, produced the Bulls' first 1,000-yard rusher in the Division I-A era (James Starks) and protected a quarterback that completed a school-record 258 passes (Drew Willy). Richard was selected in the seventh round of the 2008 NFL Draft by the Indianapolis Colts.

In 2006, he coached freshman running back James Starks to a second-team All-MAC selection - the first time a UB freshman earned All-League honors.

Mogridge had an excellent career at North Carolina where he lettered from 1996-99. He played four different positions – tight end, fullback, offensive tackle and defensive end – during his career and earned the Kenan Award for Leadership in his senior season. He went to four bowl games as a Tar Heel, including the 1996 and 1997 Gator Bowls. Carolina was a combined 21-3 over those two seasons and finished No. 4 in the final USA Today coaches poll in 1997.

Mogridge spent one year as a strength and conditioning coach at UNC while pursuing his masters degree. He spent the summer of 2000 in the Carolina Panthers training camp before playing for one year in the Arena Football League with the Carolina Cobras.

In his first stint at Buffalo he assisted all facets of the defense - helping the Bulls jump from near the bottom of total defense in the nation to 45th in 2001 - while focusing on the Bulls' defensive linemen.

He rejoined the Buffalo coaching staff in February of 2004 after one season at Western Carolina as the defensive ends coach and recruiting coordinator.

The Severville, Tenn., native married the former Jennifer Carpenter (UNC '97), and the couple has two daughters, Livi and Izzy.

SAM PITTMAN
OFFENSIVE LINE

Sam Pittman enters his fourth season as North Carolina's offensive line coach.

North Carolina had steady progress along the offensive line under Pittman despite a rash of injuries in 2009. Carolina steadily improved its running game and allowed just six sacks over last five games of the regular season.

Pittman helped develop offensive tackle Garrett Reynolds into a second-team all-conference selection in 2008. Reynolds consistently graded out as the team's top performer over the last two seasons, was named to the 2008 Lombardi Award watch list and was taken in the fifth round of the 2009 NFL Draft by the Atlanta Falcons. Reynolds was a key component in a line that helped Carolina produce its best running attack in four years, averaging 122.6 yards and rushing for 18 touchdowns.

Pittman came to Carolina after serving four seasons as Northern Illinois' offensive line coach (2003-06) and three years as its assistant head coach (2004-06). In 2006, the Huskies' offensive line paved the way for the nation's leading rusher, Garrett Wolfe, to run for more than 1,900 yards.

In four years at NIU, Pittman produced nine All-Mid-American Conference linemen, including seven first-team selections. NIU had a tailback top the 1,500-yard rushing mark all four years.

Pittman began his second term at Northern Illinois in 2003. That year, NIU finished 10-2 and beat Maryland and Iowa State and knocked off Alabama, 19-16, in Tuscaloosa. Pittman's line blocked for Michael Turner who finished second in the nation in rushing.

Pittman first coached at Northern Illinois from 1994-95 and produced a trio of All-Big West Conference talent, including All-America center Chris O'Neal. Pittman was the offensive line coach under John Blake at Oklahoma from 1996-98 where he coached first-round draft pick Stockar McDougle. Pittman has also worked with the offensive lines at Cincinnati (1996), Western Michigan (1999), Missouri (2000) and Kansas (2001).

Before NIU, Pittman produced an 11-9-1 record as head coach at Hutchinson (Kan.) Community College from 1992-93. His 1993 team earned the school's first bowl bid n 23 years at the Valley of the Sun Bowl in Phoenix.

Pittman began his career as a student coach at Pittsburg (Kan.) State University in 1984 and 1985. He moved to Beggs (Okla.) High School as an assistant in 1986, Princeton (Mo.) High School as head coach in 1987-88 and Trenton (Mo.) High School as head coach in 1989-90.

At PSU, Pittman won four football letters, finished with 35 straight starts, and played in two postseason games at defensive end (1980-83). As a senior, he won first-team NAIA All-America, first-team All-Central States Intercollegiate Conference, team captain and co-MVP honors. In 1982, Pittman made first-team All-CSIC and team defensive MVP. In 1998, he was inducted into the Pittsburg State Athletics Hall of Fame and in 2004, he was voted to the school's All-Century squad.

Pittman received a bachelor's degree in education from PSU in 1986. He is married to the former Jamie Conrad of Pittsburg, Kan.

JOHN SHOOP
OFFENSIVE COORDINATOR
QUARTERBACKS

John Shoop enters his fourth season as North Carolina's offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach.

Despite an extraordinary number of injuries to the offensive side of the ball in 2009, Carolina's offense played better late in the year and averaged 28.4 points over the last seven games of regular season.

Players have flourished in Shoop's pro-style offense, including 2008 all-conference wide receiver Hakeem Nicks, who set 14 records at UNC and was drafted in the NFL first round last year. Quarterback T.J. Yates, an unknown commodity prior to the start of the 2007 season is second all-time at UNC in passing yards, attempts, completions and completion percentage. Versatile athlete Greg Little has been a productive player at both wide receiver and tailback as Shoop always finds ways to get the ball to the team's top playmakers.

Shoop came to Chapel Hill after serving two seasons with the Oakland Raiders. He was Oakland's quarterbacks coach in 2005, the tight ends coach in 2006 and was elevated to offensive coordinator for the final five games of the 2006 season.

Shoop spent the 2004 season as quarterbacks coach for the Tampa Bay Buccaneers under head coach Jon Gruden. He worked five seasons (1999-2003) for the Chicago Bears under head coach Dick Jauron, including three as the offensive coordinator (2001-03). Shoop was promoted to Chicago's offensive coordinator position after spending the 1999-2000 seasons as the Bears quarterbacks coach. At the time, he was one of the youngest coordinators in NFL history.

In his first season as the coordinator in Chicago, Shoop revitalized the Chicago offense and helped lead the Bears to the NFC Central Division title with a 13-3 record. That season, tailback Anthony Thomas earned Offensive Rookie of the Year honors after setting a Bears' rookie rushing record with 1,183 yards, and quarterback Jim Miller had his most productive season as a pro.

Under Shoop's direction in 2002, the Bears offense produced Pro Bowl wide receiver Marty Booker, who became the first Chicago receiver to earn all-star game honors since 1971.

Prior to joining the Bears, Shoop spent four seasons with the Carolina Panthers, where he began his NFL coaching career at the age of 25. Shoop was an offensive quality control assistant for the Panthers in 1995-96 where he was a member of a staff that led the team to the NFC Championship Game in 1996. He was then promoted to quarterbacks coach, serving in that capacity for Carolina from 1997-98.

Shoop began his coaching career as a volunteer quarterbacks coach at Dartmouth in 1991, then served as a graduate assistant at Vanderbilt from 1992-94, where he also earned a master's degree in education.

A native of Oakmont, Pa., Shoop graduated from the University of the South in 1991, where he played quarterback for four seasons.

Shoop and his wife, the Rev. Dr. Marcia Mount Shoop, have a son, Sidney, and a daughter, Mary Elizabeth. Shoop's brother, Bob, is the defensive coordinator at William & Mary College.

CHARLIE WILLIAMS
WIDE RECEIVERS

Charlie Williams enters his fourth season as North Carolina's wide receivers coach.

Williams has developed several outstanding players in his career, including some of the most prolific wide receivers in UNC history. Most recently, Greg Little became just the fifth UNC player to record more than 60 receptions in a single-season when he hauled in 62 for 724 yards and five touchdowns in 2009. Williams also was responsible for the development of 2008 first-team All-ACC wide receiver Hakeem Nicks, who finished his three-year Carolina career with 14 school records. Nicks set school records for career and single-season receiving yardage and after a remarkable 217-yard performance in the Meineke Car Care Bowl, declared for the NFL Draft where he was selected in the first round (29th overall) by the New York Giants.

All three of Carolina's starting wide receivers in 2008 were selected in the NFL Draft, including Nicks, Brandon Tate and Brooks Foster.

Williams, who coached wide receivers with head coach Butch Davis at the University of Miami, came to Carolina after serving as the University of Arizona's wide receivers coach from 2004-06.

A 24-year coaching veteran, Williams spent six seasons as receivers coach with Tony Dungy and the NFL's Tampa Bay Buccaneers from 1996-2001, tutoring standout performers such as Keyshawn Johnson, Reidel Anthony and Jacquez Green. Johnson was chosen to play in three Pro Bowls while Williams was his position coach. The 2000 and 2001 Tampa Bay offenses set several franchise offensive records, and the team advanced to the playoffs four times during his tenure.

Prior to his NFL stint, Williams was wide receivers coach for three seasons at Miami, two under Dennis Erickson and one under Davis.

At Arizona, Williams developed Syndric Steptoe into a big-play threat. Steptoe was the Wildcats' leading receiver in 2006 with 55 receptions for 568 yards. Mike Thomas, Arizona's second-leading receiver in 2006 with 50 catches, set the freshman school record with 52 receptions in 2005.

Williams also coached one season for Lou Holtz at South Carolina in 2003, where he helped develop Troy Williamson into a 2005 first-round NFL draft pick of the Minnesota Vikings.

In 1993 and 1994, Williams coached Chris T. Jones, who led the Hurricanes in receiving both years and had a total of 90 catches for 1,462 yards. The 1993 Hurricanes (9-3) played Arizona in the Fiesta Bowl and Jones led Miami with six catches for 98 yards.

Williams was part of the 1994 Miami staff that led the Canes to a 10-2 finish and played Nebraska in the Orange Bowl.

A native of Long Beach, Calif., Williams began his coaching career at Long Beach City College in 1984. He worked two years at New Mexico State (1986-87), four seasons at TCU (1988-91) and one year at Minnesota (1992) before joining the Miami program.

Williams played two years as a defensive back at Colorado State (1978-79). He and his wife Lisa, have two daughters, Sydney and Jada, and a son, Gregory.

EVERETT WITHERS
DEFENSIVE COORDINATOR
SECONDARY

Charlotte, N.C., native Everett Withers enters his third season as North Carolina's defensive coordinator and secondary coach.

The Tar Heels' defense was among the nation's elite, ranking sixth in total defense, 10th against the run, 13th in scoring defense and 14th in pass defense a year ago. Six Carolina defenders were named all-conference, including four first-team picks. Carolina picked off 19 passes in 2009 and has 39 interceptions over the past two seasons.

In 2008, the opportunistic Tar Heel defense ranked eighth in the country with 20 interceptions, just one shy of the school record.

Withers came to North Carolina after serving one season as the University of Minnesota's defensive coordinator in 2007.

Withers spent six seasons with the Tennessee Titans from 2001-06 under head coach Jeff Fisher. From 2002-04, Withers helped the Titans defense tally 57 interceptions, which was the most for the franchise over a three-year period since 1993-95. The 57 interceptions also ranked fourth in the AFC and eighth overall during that time. The Titans totaled 21 picks in 2004, including 16 by the secondary.

In 2002, Withers directed a revamped secondary that added safeties Lance Schulters and rookie Tank Williams. The new arrangement helped the defense earn a top 10 ranking and Schulters' six interceptions were the most by a Titans safety since 1993. Withers also developed Andre Dyson into a starter as a rookie in 2001 and helped him total 16 interceptions during his four-year Titan career, including six his final season.

Prior to working with the Titans, Withers was defensive backs coach under Mack Brown at Texas from 1998-2000, where he guided a Longhorns secondary which improved from 75th in the nation in pass defense in 1997 (132.7 efficiency rating) to first in the nation in 2000 (88.02). Withers is credited with helping a young corps of defensive backs improve in a number of statistical categories.

Withers joined the Longhorns after three seasons (1995-97) as defensive coordinator at Louisville. His 1996 defensive unit ranked fourth nationally in both total defense (235.8) and rushing defense (81.1) and led the NCAA in forced turnovers (41). While at Louisville, Withers helped current New York Giants All-Pro cornerback Sam Madison earn All-America honors for the Cardinals.

Withers' first National Football League experience came with the New Orleans Saints where he worked as defensive quality control in 1994. Prior to his experience with the Saints, Withers was defensive backs coach at Southern Mississippi for two seasons (1992-93) and outside linebackers coach at Tulane in 1991. The first three years of Withers' coaching career came at Austin Peay, where he was defensive coordinator (1988-89) and special teams/wide receivers coach (1990).

Withers earned his bachelor's degree from Appalachian State in 1985. He was also a standout defensive back and captain for the Mountaineers from 1981-85. Withers and his wife, Kara, have two children, Tia and Pierce.

COREY HOLLIDAY
ASSOCIATE ATHLETIC DIRECTOR
FOOTBALL ADMINISTRATION

Corey Holliday, who played for the Tar Heels from 1989-93, enters his 10th year with the football program. He was promoted to Associate Director of Athletics for Football Administration in 2006. Holliday coordinates daily football program administration, works with the University admissions office, supervises football operational personnel and handles other administrative duties as assigned by athletic director Dick Baddour and head coach Butch Davis.

Holliday was selected as one of 25 athletics administrators to participate in the inaugural 2001-02 NCAA Leadership Institute for Ethnic Minority Males.

Holliday graduated as the Carolina career record holder for most receiving yards (2,447), a mark he held until it was broken by Hakeem Nicks in 2008. Holliday is also fourth in career receptions. Holliday caught a pass in an ACC-record 45 consecutive games for the Tar Heels from 1990-93 and was a team co-captain as a junior and senior.

Holliday played four seasons with the Pittsburgh Steelers and was a member of four divisional championship squads. He played in Super Bowl XXX against the Dallas Cowboys and had two receptions and two special teams tackles.

Holliday also has held positions with the Atlantic Coast Conference, UNC's Educational Foundation, and The Ohio State University. Before returning to Chapel Hill, he was a Business Process Analyst for Andersen Consulting in Columbus, Ohio.

He holds two degrees from North Carolina, including a B.S. in Business Administration in 1993 and a Master's in Sports Administration in 1997. Holliday and his wife, Angela (UNC '94), have two sons, Christopher and Nicholas.

SCOTT TRULOCK
HEAD ATHLETIC TRAINER

Scott Trulock enters his fourth season as the team's Head Athletic Trainer for Football, where he heads a staff of two full-time assistants and two graduate assistants. Trulock and his staff work to keep Carolina's football student-athletes healthy and to rehabilitate any injuries quickly and successfully.

Trulock came to Carolina after spending 11 years in the National Football League. He served as the assistant athletic trainer for the Denver Broncos on Mike Shanahan's staff from 2004-06. Previously, he was the director of rehabilitation in Tampa Bay under head coach Jon Gruden from 2002-03. Trulock won a Super Bowl ring in 2002 when Tampa Bay knocked off the Oakland Raiders in Super Bowl XXXVII.

Trulock began his career as assistant athletic trainer with the Philadelphia Eagles from 1996-98 and also worked for the San Diego Chargers from 1999-2001.

While working in the NFL, Trulock was a member of the Professional Football Athletic Trainers' Society (PFTAS). Within the Society, he served as the director of research for the PFATS Research and Education Foundation. In this role, he was responsible for spearheading the surveillance of injury data in order to establish trends in injury patterns to NFL players. In addition, Trulock has presented at many local, state, and national meetings.

The return to Carolina is a homecoming of sorts for Trulock, as he received his Masters Degree in Athletic Training from UNC in 1996. The position with the Football program presented him the opportunity to re-join one of the top Sports Medicine programs in the country. Actively involved in research since his days as a student at Carolina, Trulock utilizes the full complement of physicians, faculty, and researchers in the Sports Medicine department to provide cutting edge healthcare for UNC's football student-athletes.

A native of Orlando, Fla., Trulock earned his undergraduate degree in sports medicine at Valdosta State in 1994. Scott and his wife, Jamie, have two daughters, Corinne and Riley.

I'M A TAR HEEL

Being a Tar Heel is about heart, passion and desire. I'm proud to be a part of one of the best families one can have — the Carolina Family. I'm Kendric Burney, and I'm a Tar Heel.

I'M A TAR HEEL. It's a simple statement—a phrase that can mean something different for each person who says it. Underlying it is a thread common to each member of the Carolina Family. That underlying thread is the commitment each Tar Heel has to do things the Carolina Way—with great integrity, a dedication to fellow Tar Heels, an unwavering loyalty to Carolina, and a commitment to excellence.

The Carolina Way also entails a commitment to excellence—a commitment that is unrivaled elsewhere. It is evident in Carolina's 37 team national championships, 54 individual national championships, and numerous conference titles. It is evident in the classroom as Carolina boasts an outstanding 85 percent graduation rate among student-athletes. It is evident in the community as Tar Heel student-athletes and staff performed more than 20,000 hours of community service last year.

The Rams Club shares the commitment to a high level of excellence that is characteristic of this University. The Rams Club supports Carolina's broad-based athletics program by offering scholarship and program support assistance to more than 450 student-athletes in 28 varsity sports each year.

As a Rams Club member, you can enjoy the pride of investing in our student-athletes and their success. Your renewed membership in The Rams Club gives our outstanding student-athletes an opportunity to give their own definition of what it means TO BE A TAR HEEL.
